College of Earth & Mineral Sciences

Wednesday, September 2, 2009

10:00 a.m.

Kimberly Del Bright is our new Giles Writer-in-Residence. Del has over twenty years of teaching and writing experience. She joins us from the English Department where she taught a variety of courses in composition and was awarded the “Lecturer Excellence in Teaching Award.” She has also taught professional development courses in resumes, cover letters, and interviewing skills. Prior to her lecturing position in the English Department, she was a technical writer for a research project on wood plastic composites. She has an undergraduate degree in English and economics and graduate degrees in forestry and teaching. Her unique combination of liberal arts and science gives her a perspective she is eager to share with our EMS students. Helping students to make the connection between these two important aspects of their education is one of her goals.

For those of you who cannot attend this seminar, Del will be giving a repeat presentation on September 16 at 4:00 p.m.

Please RSVP to Jennifer Howard at jxh6@psu.edu to reserve a seat.
